COMPANY OVERVIEW

---

Introduction

AfroMining Resources (AMR) is a South African-based surface and underground mining reclamation company, established on May 27, 2015, by Michael Ndwambi. The company focuses on reclaiming surface rocks and sands and performing underground exploration, with a vision to rehabilitate mined land for agricultural and other future recreational activities. AMR is headquartered in Johannesburg, South Africa, and operates in the Hexrivier farm area, located 26 km from Balfour.

MISSION & VISION

Mission

Our mission is to deliver sustainable mining practices, reclaiming surface materials and remediating land for future agricultural or underground mining use. We aim to reduce illegal mining, create employment, and contribute to environmental restoration in South Africa.

Vision

To be the preferred mining partner in surface rock, tailings, and gold sand reclamation, providing long-term value beyond mining by empowering communities through sustainable development and job creation.

Core activities

Mining Operations: AMR focuses on extracting gold surface rocks and sand, with the focus of restoring the mined land and for environment construction efforts.

Values: for environmental restoration efforts

Afromining Resources is committed to empowering communities and creating sustainable value through employment and empowering local schools i.e. Providing local schools with computers and other essential tools within the Dipaleseng municipality.

Exploration projects

AMR with the agreement from landowners we will start with the underground exploration to determine the grade, sustainability and life span of the mine.

Management Team

MICHAEL NDWAMBI

CEO & EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

With 19 years of experience in mining, Michael holds a BSc (Hons) in Mining Geology from the University of Venda. His extensive background includes working at Gold Fields and Mintails Mining, where he developed expertise in both surface and underground mining operations.

ELEKANYANI NDWAMBI

GROUP COMPANY SECRETARY

Elekanyani Ndwambi has 17 years experience in deep level underground and surface operations at south deep gold mine. She has worked as diesel mechanic and control room operator and holds a safety officer certificate.

SUSTAINABILITY PRACTICE

We are currently doing toll treatment with Nicolar South Plant to process the surface rocks, sand, slimes, old plant rubbles and other gold bearing materials left by predecessors to reverse environmental degradation to make the land usable either for further underground mining or agricultural activities. Water reservoirs will be built to ascertain that water used for mining processing does not meet underground water.

PARTNERSHIP/ CO INVESTORS

AMR is currently working with Nicolar South Plant and Afromining and processing.

AFROMINING RESOURCES STRATEGIC PLAN

AMR's strategic plan is to reclaim surface rock and sand. We focus on the following:

Eradication of Illegal Mining (Zama Zama): This improves the safety of local farm dwellers and reduces crime in the surrounding areas.

Environmental Remediation: We aim to undo the environmental degradation caused by abandoned mines, ensuring the land is useable for future endeavors.

Job Creation: AMR creates both short-term and long-term local employment opportunities, contributing to the reduction of crime.
